Getting started with Included Health

Who can use Included Health?

This new benefit is available through HealthTrust to individuals enrolled in a HealthTrust medical plan (except Medicare Three) who are experiencing complex and serious medical conditions. You and your covered spouse can each create an account with Included Health.

How much does it cost?

Included Health services are available through HealthTrust at no cost to eligible individuals. However, individuals will pay their regular medical plan cost sharing (copays, deductibles and coinsurance) for seeing providers as a result of any recommended treatment plan.
